

LOCAL GOVERNMENT SERVICES

WE'RE LISTENING.

Hanson is a company that values client relationships, so we listen to your needs and engineer solutions to meet them. While some companies tell you what they think you want to hear, Hanson is interested in the solutions that make our clients successful.

You'll benefit from working with us.

While we are fully dedicated to every kind of project, we pride ourselves on completing the big jobs that would otherwise keep local government officials up at night. At Hanson, we can take on large, complex and crucial assignments because our personnel have many years of experience in a broad range of services. This will ensure that your project is in capable hands, so you can spend your valuable time addressing the other pressing needs of your constituents.

Each project presents unique challenges, and Hanson has the know-how to tackle them.

We put ourselves in your shoes.

The saying goes, if you really want to know someone, walk a mile in his or her shoes. And Hanson has. Our staff includes people who have been there, so they know how to get you through planning, design, funding, public outreach and permitting issues. We ask the right questions when facing these challenges, resulting in an efficient use of your time and budget. You need a consultant who will put you and your needs first.

It takes experience to know every job is unique.

Hanson has experience with an array of local government projects:

- bridge evaluation, rehab and design
- transportation planning and design
- traffic analysis and design
- environmental studies and permitting
